

New York Women in Communications, Inc

Mission

New York Women in Communications empowers women in all communications disciplines and at every career stage to reach their full potential. Our platform revolves around two pillars: the advancement of women at every stage of her career and the changing landscape of communications. We promote professional growth and inspire members to achieve and share their successes in the rapidly changing world of communications.

About NYWICI:

Founded in 1929, NYWICI is a non-profit association whose members represent the breadth and depth of the continuously evolving communications industry. NYWICI has long been the premier organization for communications professionals in the New York metropolitan area

Members come from all facets of communications: Advertising; Books; Corporate Communications; Film/Video/Photo; Fundraising/Development; Graphic Design/Illustration; Internet/New Media; Magazines; Marketing; Multimedia; Newspapers; Public Relations; Radio; Sales; and Television.

NYWICI also is an important source of professional contacts, business-development and job leads. Many members also develop expanded networks to encourage professional and personal growth. We strengthen the role of women across the continuum of communications by promoting professional development and leadership.

Purpose:

- ❖ To inspire women to achieve and to share their success
- ❖ To promote leadership and professional development
- ❖ To network for professional growth and support
- ❖ To nurture future leaders in communications